West Andover Test Area For "Y" Plan

F. Lewis Brown, youth director at the Y.M.C.A. in Lawrence, announced this week that the Association was going to undertake the task of trying to provide transportation to and from the Y.M.C.A. for boys in outlying communities. The first attempt to solve the problem will be made in the West Andover area beginning Saturday Jan. 18 and continuing for the rest of the month on Saturday. The Y.M.C.A. is inviting those who are interested and who have sons in grades three through six to take advantage of the January guest days at the "Y". Boys will participate in a program of gym, swimming, and movies. It will be necessary for them to bring gym clothes, towels, and sneakers. Lunches should be brought also. There will be no charge for the use of facilities but the boys will need 50¢ to cover the expense of the round trip bus fare.

The attempt in the West Andover area is an experiment to see if those families living in that area are desirous of the opportunity being provided. If enough interest is expressed, the Y.M.C.A. will sponsor the transportation program for boys between the ages of eight to 12 as a regular part of their program. Mr. Brown also pointed out that boys of all ages may use the Y.M.C.A. bus to participate in the Y.M.C.A. swimming instruction program on Wednesday afternoon.

He also pointed out that it will be necessary for those who plan to have their boys participate in the regular program of the Y to become members of the Association. The two Saturdays in January will be guest days, but beginning Feb. 1 only those who are members will be transported.

Interest Developing In Town Political Races

Former Resident Recalls Barn

Confirmation that the old barn on Maple ave., actually was an original town fire station was received this week from a man who should know.

John A. Flint - now a resident of Raleigh, N.C. - has every reason to be sure of his facts - he hitched a ride on the moving barn when the builders were taking it to Maple ave. from its Main st. location.

Mr. Flint says the station was on the east side of Main st., near the corner of Chestnut.

He, and George Putnam Jr., sneaked onto the timbers used to support the big station, as it rode on rollers along Main st. But workmen kicked them off.

Trade Board Is Asking Support

Once again, the Andover Board of Trade will seek the town's aid in support of the Christmas lighting program, according to Charles R. Dunklee, the Board's manager.

The article seeks an appropriation of $500 towards the cost and operation of the program, costing approximately $2,500 per year, the balance of which will be paid by the Andover Board of Trade. "We have got to have financial help if the ABT is going to be

Jaycees Will Announce Winner

Announcement of the winner of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Outstanding Young Man of the Year award will be made Thursday evening, Jan. 23 at a dinner at the Merrimack Valley Motor Inn. Andover Jaycees and their wives will hear an address by Atty. Jerome Rappaport who was winner of the award in Boston at one time.

Nominations, accompanied by short biographies may still be sent to Gerald Silverman, 56 Dufton rd. The United States Junior Chamber of Commerce and its affiliated state and local organizations have set aside the week of Jan. 19-25 to observe the founding of the Jaycees.

In connection with this event, Town Manager, Thomas E. Duff, has issued a proclamation proclaiming the week of Jan. 19-25 as Jaycee Week in Andover.

Interest in the Selectmen's office grew stronger this week, as two candidates took out nomination papers for the one-year term.

They are Roger W. Collins, 50 Maple ave, and J. Paul Herbert, 13 Rennie dr.

Thomas Wallace, 102 Summer st., is seeking re-election to the Housing Authority and Atty. Charles G. Hatch of Appletree Ln. is running for another one-year term as moderator.

Fred Tarbox, the local appointee to the regional Vocational and Technical High School District, will take out his papers for an elected three-year term on that separate School Committee.

So far, there are no contests for the two three-year positions on the Board of Selectmen, for which Selectmen Philip K. Allen and Robert A. Watters have announced their candidacies.

The announcements of two candidates for School Committee - incumbent William A. Doherty and Robert Sherman of Lucerne dr. - are carried in separate stories elsewhere in this issue. There are two positions to be filled on that Committee.

Also running for re-election this year are five trustees of the Pynchard Free School. They are Arthur W. Cole, Fred W. Doyle, Edmond E. Hammond, C. Carleton Kimball and Harry Sellers.

Robert Sherman Seeks School Post

Robert E. Sherman, 64 Lucerne dr., has announced his candidacy for a position on the Andover School Committee.

Mr. Sherman has been associated with Bell Telephone Laboratories in North Andover for 17 years. He is an engineering supervisor in the microwave radio department.

He graduated from Michigan College of Mining and Technology with a Bachelor of Science degree in Electrical Engineering. He is a member of Tau Beta Pi, and Eta Kappa Nu, honorary engineering fraternities.

A veteran of World War II, he contributed to the atomic bomb development at Los Alamos, while in the Corps of Engineers.

1964 CASH Rewards From 1963 CASH Purchases

January is an exciting month for CO-OP shoppers. This is because two rewarding things are going on at the same time.

For one thing, our shoppers are adding up their 1963 purchase slips (or bringing them to our office for adding.) The 1963 CO-OP surplus is distributed to each member shopper in proportion to patronage. Thus, the more you buy at the CO-OP, the greater your return in HARD CASH.

Secondly, CO-OP shoppers know that their January 1964 purchases are accumulating CASH savings for the 1965 refund.

That is why this is a doubly rewarding month.

1963 was the best year in our 25-year history. You can help break that record during 1964 by shopping the THRIFTY CO-OP.

Dr. and Mrs. St. Germaine Visit Daughter In Rome

Dr. and Mrs. James J. St. Germaine, 32 Enmore st., returned Jan. 4 from Europe where they had spent Christmas visiting their daughter, Cathy, in Rome. Cathy is at present on a four-week tour of Mediterranean lands with a group of 180 American college juniors who are spending the year at the Rome Center of Humanistic Studies, sponsored by Loyola University of Chicago. With their professors they are visiting art galleries and sites of historical interest in Cairo and Memphis, Egypt, Damascus, Syria, Beirut, Lebanon, and Jerusalem. They toured the Holy Land at the same time as the Pope's pilgrimage. Jan. 15 was the date of their arrival in Istanbul, from where they will fly to Athens and from there to Madrid, Barcelona and Grenada in Spain and back to Rome Feb. 2. Cathy reports that although the weather has been good for the most part, there were two days when the temperature of her room fell to 35 degrees, an unusual circumstance in the Middle East. Dr. St. Germaine, who is a professor of political science at Merrimack College, believes with Disraeli that "Travel teaches tolerance" and also likes to quote St. Augustine, who said "The world is a book, and those who do not travel read only one page." He has travelled extensively, last year in particular, when he and 65 other members of the Political Science Association took a State Department tour around the world. He and his wife, a teacher in the Shawsheen school, both find their personal observations invaluable in their classrooms.

On this most recent trip they flew to Paris Dec. 27, visited Chartres Cathedral, spent two days in London and saw Stratford-on-Avon. One of their most vivid memories is Margot Fonteyn dancing Swan Lake in London.

Several Attended Worcester Lecture

Wednesday, Jan. 7, several members of the West Church were in Worcester, where they attended a lecture by Elton Trueblood, entitled, "The Laymen and the Church".

The Lecture was given in the Central Church, Worcester.

Those attending were Vahey Guluzian, Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart, Owen Williams, Mrs. Bruce VanBlair and Earl Young.

Mr. Trueblood is one of the foremost Christian Laymen of the present day and one of his latest books, "The Company of the Committed", is highly recommended.

Winter Vacation Week Day Camp

Initial preparations are well underway at the Greater Lawrence Y.M.C.A. for the introduction of a new type of program to serve those families who are in need of something for boys between the ages of eight through 14 to occupy their time when school is closed for the winter vacation during the month of February.

F. Lewis Brown, youth director at the Lawrence Y.M.C.A., announced that the "Y" will sponsor a special vacation camp during the week of February 24-28 at the "Y" building. Plans call for the program to be conducted from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on a Monday through Friday basis. A regular day camp program is being planned with such things as arts and crafts, swimming, gym games, trips to points of interest, etc.

Members of the Y.M.C.A. will be required to pay $1.50 for the five days, while non-members will be charged $6.00 for tuition, 25¢ cents for membership and 20¢ cents for accident insurance.

Brown stated that he will mail application forms to members during the next two weeks. Those who are not members but are interested in the program may call the Y.M.C.A., 686-6191 to have them mailed. A quota of 75 boys has been set for the camp and early registration is necessary to insure a week of good times for the boys. Transportation to and from the "Y" is dependent on those who register.

There is an old bromide to the effect that "an apple a day keeps the doctor away." This old saying was put to test by Michigan State U. and it was found that 1300 apple-eating students actually made fewer sick calls than other students. Respiratory and tension-induced ailments were significantly fewer.

Very likely the vitamin C content of the apples accounted for a lesser number of normal illnesses and some as yet unknown natural tranquilizing substance lessened everyday tension.

When your medical needs require something more definite than what an apple can provide, call SHAWSHEEN PHARMACY.

Prescriptions are a specialty at SHAWSHEEN PHARMACY, Shaw-sheen Square. Free prescription delivery.

Electrical Shop Damaged In Fire

Fire - which for a time threatened the entire building at 8 Essex st. - caused several patrons of the Forum V coffee shop to leave hurriedly last Saturday night.

The flames, however, were confined to the electrical shop in the rear of the building, and did no damage to the coffee house, a fish store and laundromat.

An alarm was sounded about 10:30 Saturday night, and firefighters, under the direction of Deputy Chief Charles Murnane, found a potentially dangerous condition when they arrived moments later.

Flames which started in the rear of the building were leaping up outside walls, and had begun to eat into the front half of the structure. Damage, other than smoke, was confined to the rear portion of the building, and the electrical shop owned by Albert Schadlick, 78 High st. The building is owned by Samuel Resnick of South Main st.

Fire Department crews returned to quarters about 12:30 a.m., Sunday morning.

Any action taken for spite is usually about as successful as it deserves to be.

Savings Bank Reports Year Of Substantial Growth

A year of substantial growth in savings deposits, investment in mortgage loans and dividends paid to depositors highlighted the annual meeting of Andover Savings Bank held Monday afternoon.

President Robert M. Henderson told the approximately 30 corporators and trustees in attendance that for the year ending Dec. 31st, deposits had increased by $1,679,000 to an all time high of $32,453,000. He pointed out that during the same period assets had climbed to $36,266,000 - a gain of $2,073,000 over the previous year and representing the highest level reached in the history of the bank. A corresponding growth was also noted in the bank's mortgage portfolio during 1963. Trustees were informed that total investment in real estate loans, primarily on local residential properties, amounted to a record $24,778,000 - an increase of $1,860,000 or 7.9 percent over the previous year.

Henderson revealed that gross mortgage loan business written during the past year amounted to more than $4,400,000.

Henderson also reported that dividends paid to the bank's more than 20,000 depositors during 1963 amounted to a record $1,211,000, reflecting an impressive increase of 7 1/2 percent over the previous year.

In other business taken up at the meeting, the following were elected new corporators: Arthur W. Ermer and Charles B. M. Whiteside, both of Andover; Dr. J. Leroy Wood of Methuen; Lyman S. Appleton, assistant treasurer of the bank; and Richard C. MacGowan.

MacGowan, who joined Andover Savings Bank Aug. 1 as treasurer, was also elected a vice president and trustee. He was formerly associated with the Lowell Institution for Savings as vice treasurer.

The retirement of Charles C. Kimball from the Board of Trustees after 34 years of distinguished service was also announced. He will continue as corporator.

Lawrence Man Held For Murder

The case of a Lawrence man, charged with the murder of John D. Gillespie, 32 Elm st., has been continued to Jan. 23 for a hearing.

Held without bail is Eben J. Hoyt, 37, 35 Carver st., Lawrence. Lawrence police had previously charged him with assault and battery by means of a dangerous weapon - when Gillespie died Tuesday, the additional charge was made and Hoyt was re-arrested by Lawrence police. They charge that Gillespie was stabbed during a fight early last Saturday morning at Shattuck and Carver sts., Lawrence. He was admitted to the Lawrence General Hospital about 2 a.m. Saturday and had been unconscious ever since.

Dr. John T. Batal, medical examiner, attributed death to cerebral anoxemia. He, with Dr. Edwin V. Hill, state pathologist from the Harvard Medical-Legal School, performed an autopsy.

Gillespie, 21, was a native of Methuen.

He had lived here most of his life, the son of Mrs. Augustina M. (Finneran) Gillespie and the late Donald Gillespie.

He attended Sacred Heart School in Shawsheen, Central Catholic High School, Lawrence and Andover High School. He served in the U.S. Navy and was a member of the Naval Reserve. Since returning here from active duty, he had been employed as an apprentice electrician by the Malden Spinning Mills.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by a sister, Margaret, wife of William Gilmore of Bradford; also two nieces.

The funeral will be held from the Lundgren-Funeral Home this morning, with a high Mass of requiem in St. Augustin's Church at 9 o'clock. Burial will be in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Program Of Chamber Music

Sunday, Jan. 19, at 3 p.m., three talented young string players will present a short program of classical sonatas in the Underwood Room at the new Art Center on the Phillips Academy campus.

Members of the group are Laura Stevenson, a senior at Abbot Academy, and Robin Batteau and Mike Madison, both of whom are upper middle students at Phillips Academy. They will play sonatas by Tartini, Haydn, and J. S. Bach.

Because classical chamber music was meant to be played in the intimate surroundings of each patron's private music salon, the informal atmosphere of the Underwood Room should be ideal for such a program. The public is cordially invited to attend this informal recital. There is no charge for admission.

able to maintain and operate a quality Christmas lighting program, which the people of Andover seem to want and enjoy," Dunklee stated.

According to Robert Chase, the ABT's Christmas Lighting Committee chairman for the past two years, the cost of maintaining, erecting and lighting the decorations will average $2,500 per year. The 1962 program, the year in which the new decorations were purchased, cost approximately $4,800 of which $2,300 was raised by a bank loan. The 1963 program will cost about $2,600 of which $700 will be used to pay interest and a principle payment on the loan.

he recalls.

Mr. Flint remembers that the fire station - not needed by 1887 or so because the new one was built - was purchased by George S. Cole, who was both carpenter and builder. Mr. Cole built and lived in the Maple ave. house where the barn is today located. Later he sold it to J. P. Wakefield, who carried on his meat business from that location for a number of years.

Mr. Flint claims, however, that Mr. Wakefield never used the old barn as a slaughter house. He says this work was done in the Wakefield slaughter house on Cuba st. He also suggests that the old barn - once a fire station - may have a more varied and older use as well.

Mr. Flint suggests that the first use of this old structure may have been the manufacture of stoves and ranges.

If so, it would have been for the McGee Stove and Range Co., he claims - a popular local manufacturer of the late 1800's.

Proposed Zoning By Legislature

The state Legislature is being asked to establish house lot sizes for all communities in the Commonwealth.

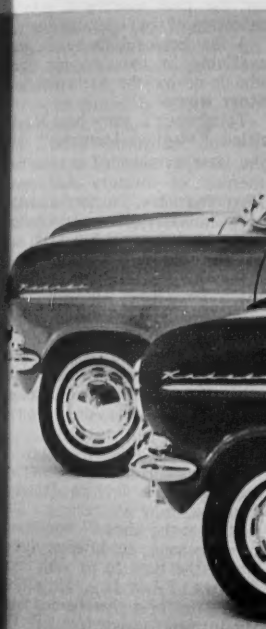

The State Home Builders Association has filed legislation which would establish two sizes of lots - one for areas served by both town water and sewage, the other for areas with only town water.

In the first case, lots should not be by local by-law - be required to exceed 9,000 square feet. Currently, the smallest lot in Andover's zoning is 15,000 square feet.

The larger lots - where only town water is available - could not exceed 15,000 square feet. At present, the largest required lot here is one acre - nearly three times the size of the largest lot listed by the proposed law.

The legislation will come up for hearing before the joint House-Senate Committee on Mercantile Affairs, at a date as yet unpublished.

The bill does not prohibit a builder from using lots larger

The state Legislature is being asked to establish house lot sizes for all communities in the Commonwealth.

The State Home Builders Association has filed legislation which would establish two sizes of lots - one for areas served by both town water and sewage, the other for areas with only town water. The legislation will come up for hearing before the joint House-Senate Committee on Mercantile Affairs, at a date as yet unpublished.

The bill does not prohibit a builder from using lots larger than those specified if he wishes to do so, but it does prevent local zoning from requiring this.

A buffer zone is provided, to preserve architectural and esthetic values.

The state Association claims that land is being wasted through tremendous requirements for large lots. The increased cost of land then demands a higher price for the finished homes, the Association continues, and this in turn prevents sale of middle or low income housing.

The Association claims that there will be a large demand for housing in the years to come, but that the land is being made unavailable through restrictive zoning.

The Association also points out that costs are greater when houses are spread out along a street, as compared to shorter frontage requirements.

In Andover, estimates of the effect of the legislation are in the area of a 200 percent increase in house potential.

In areas where acre zoning is now the local requirement, builders could presumably erect at least two houses on each acre, if not more.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Study Salary Changes

A number of years ago, when the Board of Public Works existed, there was a lot of critical comment about the Board's performance.

And especially caustic were the comments about the Board's method of giving pay raises. The general theme of the criticism was that BPW employees, or some of them, should not get raises that were denied to other municipal employees. This created the undesirable situation of employees, doing the same general jobs, receiving different salaries or wages.

Out of the criticism came the proposal to have a wage and salary plan, with a job description, to assure equal treatment for all employees. This was adopted, and worked until the town manager charter was adopted. Then the manager became responsible for setting salaries, and making changes in classifications.

There is no question that the town manager has exercised his power. Reclassifications have been made for individuals; job descriptions have either been altered or new ones have been written.

The result of this is a return to the days when one employee had reason to be bitter because of wage and salary inequities.

We suggest that the Selectmen, as an aid in establishing policy, activate the personnel-wage board and thoroughly review the original classifications in comparison with what exists today. Some startling changes may become evident if such a study is completed.

Review Bus Specs

The clamor about school bus routes, loads and extra mileage leads to one conclusion — a revision of the specifications is demanded.

The present contract specifies a basic 75 miles per day, at a flat rate. Extra mileage is paid above this basic amount of travel.

But in fact, kindergarten transportation has been customarily considered as an extra — thus a driver might possibly have a 60-mile route, and be paid extra for kindergarten transportation, even though some of the latter mileage is below the basic mileage allowance in his contract.

This is a case where custom has been at odds with the letter of the contract; Possibly there are substantial reasons why the kindergarten mileage should be paid as an extra. If so, the specifications are wrong.

It would make sense to find out, then write specifications that are reasonable and just, and which can be followed accurately.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago — January, 1889

A special article for the March town meeting asks for the extension of Punchard ave, through land of Locke, Bradley and Flint, to High st., at a point about one-fourth mile north of Rea and Abbott's slaughter house.

The building committee Saturday accepted the new school house on Bartlet st., built at a cost of $20,000. The building will be occupied at once. The grammar school pupils go from the old building to the new one, and the children in the South-Center primary school house, near the South Church, will be transferred to the grammar school.

W. S. Jenkins was elected president of the Merrimack Mutual Monday.

Last Monday, while several children were playing in the Red Spring woods, one of them met with a severe accident. While running, he stumbled and fell, dislocating his arm at the shoulder and breaking the wrist.

50 Years Ago — January, 1914

Editorial: "The movement to place upon the School Board a female member is deserving of earnest consideration on the part of the citizens of the town".

Mrs. Leon T. Knox of Wollaston is spending several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stott of River st.

As usual, John Haggerty cleared and ploughed out the sidewalks in the Vale in a prompt and satisfactory manner, after the recent severe storm.

A fire broke out late Monday afternoon at the home of Henry W. Barnard of High st., but was speedily controlled by firemen.

25 Years Ago — January, 1939

Plans are being considered by the Board of Public Works to take up quarters in the town hall. It would cost about $1,200 to renovate the second floor area. The Board now pays $50 monthly for rented offices outside the hall. A special study on town building needs made last year recommended against the proposed renovations in the town hall, because it was felt that the town hall must be torn down within a few years anyway.

Only a handful of candidates are on the scene, despite the fact that there are only two weeks left in which to file nomination papers. P. LeRoy Wilson took out his papers for Selectman and George F. Riley Jr. has papers for the BPW.

James Gillespie has been elected moderator of the Free Church. At the annual Parish meeting of the West Parish Church, held last Thursday evening, Herbert Merrick was elected clerk; Frederic Boutwell, treasurer; Harry Wright, William Trow and Arthur Boutwell, assessors.

10 Years Ago — January, 1954

A new record in the continuing building boom was established last year in the number of single-family dwellings for which permits were issued — 152, at an estimated cost of $1,884,000.

Three snow storms, starting last Saturday, brought over 12 inches of snow and meant a lot of extra hard work for the BPW crews.

School housing needs have been under discussion, with a special committee appointed to consider both elementary and secondary needs, in conjunction with the School Committee. Gordon L. Colquhoun is chairman of the housing committee.

The position of chief clerk will be established in the assessor's offices, by vote of the three selectmen-assessors. Outgoing chairman Roy Hardy recommended the new post.

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman: "Again we are in the midst of a debate between the School Committee, and the Andover Taxpayers Association.

"So far I agree with the Taxpayers Association. There is, for all to see, a remarkable transformation on No. Main st. Two old houses have been remodeled and a beautiful new home made for the Girl Scouts of America. After seeing what can be done by this master builder, I'm convinced the argument for adding to the present school buildings is sound and economical, and will satisfy all demands for the needed extra school class rooms. We have in Andover a master builder who can and does work miracles with old buildings.

"We do get fired up, and rightly so, about hiring Andover citizens for teachers. It seems to me about time we also demand that Andover builders be asked to do whatever remodeling is required to furnish the needed class rooms for our young'uns. So I will end my say on the subject by asking the question:

"How About It?"

Robert V. Deyermund
91 Elm st.

To the Editor of the Townsman:

"A great deal has been printed recently about the relative merits of the 6-3-3 and the 6-2-4 arrangement of grades in our public schools. I suspect the discussion has been more confusing than enlightening to your readers.

"I offer a layman's attempt to take the mystery out of this situation by looking at the obvious educational similarities. Instead of hunting for obscure extra-curricular differences. As I see it, what we have from an educational point of view is neither a 6-3-3 nor a 6-2-4 system, but rather a 6-6 system. Calling it a 6-6 system not only gets closer to the basic academic truth, but makes it far easier to understand.

"For many decades we have had a public school system consisting of 12 grades divided according to two methods of instruction. In the lower grades, different subjects are taught by the same teacher; in the upper grades, different subjects are taught by different teachers (and facilities). Educationally, that's all there is to it. Nothing has ever been done to change this basic concept. No changes are now being contemplated.

"The only difference we have ever considered concerns the number of grades to be taught by each of these methods. But regardless whether we divide the 12 grades into an 8-4 arrangement as we used to do, or a 6-6 pattern as we now do, there are still only two ways of using our teachers: as generalists or as specialists. Incidentally, Phillips is a four-year, while Brooks is a six-year upper school.

"Where, then, does the 3-3 or the 2-4 come in? This is simply an arbitrary sub-division of the common six year upper school, employed by towns of large size for the primary purpose of providing more suitable housing and more convenient administration for large six-year enrollments. A small town will, if sensible, house and administer all six grades as one unit. Any way you figure it, both 3 plus 3 and 2 plus 4 add up to six.

"Since our present six-year upper school is merely a two-year downward extension of our former four-year plan of specialized instruction, it makes little difference academically whether we put three or four grades in a high school building. In either case, a ninth grade is a ninth grade. To quote James B. Conant, "There is no consensus whatever . . . as to the place of grade nine in the organizational framework". (He does, however, say that a four-year high school may offer ninth graders certain elective courses of longer duration).

"Although a change from a 3-3 to a 2-4 sub-division will have few if any academic consequences, other results not affecting our students' education will ensue. Such a change will alter the administrative load of principals involved. Such a change (for better or for worse) will advance the ninth graders' social and athletic affiliations by one year. But I know of no reason why moving the ninth grade into high school one year sooner than at present will incur extra costs of any consequence. On this point I invite enlightenment.

"The way it looks to this layman, Mr. editor, all the fuss and feathers over the sub-division of our six-year upper school looks like little more than a tempest in an administrative teapot."

Great Books

An open invitation is extended to all who are interested in the Great Books Discussion program to attend the coming meeting, Tuesday, Jan. 21 at 7:30 o'clock. This group meets in the small conference room upstairs in the library every other Tuesday evening. At each meeting the group discusses the assigned book and what it means to each reader. For a number of years the group has been led by Miss Helen Stearns and Mr. Robert Rockwell, who are trained in the conduct of this type of discussion. The reading for the next meeting is to be a selection of the Federalist Papers.

A few copies of the reading are available at the desk for those who do not own the year's readings.

Story Hours

This week's story hour is entitled "Magical Mysteries" with the stories selected to bring out themes of mystery and magic. Next Thursday, Jan. 23, the subject is "China Boys." One of the stories is to be "Shen Of The Sea", one of the older but greatly loved tales that has enchanted children for a long time. All young people are invited to these programs, Thursday afternoons at 3:35 o'clock. The only requirement is that each boy and girl who attends can find real pleasure in one of the oldest of arts, that of storytelling.

Films for February

If your group is planning an entertainment for its February meeting, why not reserve a film or two at the library? Several will be on hand at different times. From the first to the 14th, there will be "And Now, Miguel", a 1 hour film of a shepherding family in New Mexico; from Feb. 14-14, "Colonial Children", 10 minutes, the day of a colonial family from morning chores to the evening reading of the Bible; also for those days "The Sleeping Beauty", an eight minute retelling of the famous fairy tale, "Days Of The Dirigible", the hopes and disappointments of aviation pioneers in the era of lighter-than-air craft, and "A Newspaper Serves Its Community" a color film that shows how a newspaper works and emphasizes the many ways in which it serves its community; from Feb. 10-28, there will be three unusual films, averaging between eleven and fifteen minutes: "Finger Paintings of Wu Tsai Yen", the technique of Chinese finger painting, "Loon's Necklace", a North American Indian legend of how the loon, a water bird, received its white neckband, and "Universe", an award-winning naturalistic animation that illustrates the immensity of the universe. From Feb. 5 to the end of the month there will be three Canadian travel films in color, also available to groups.

The library will loan its projector along with the films, without charge, but asks those who borrow the projector to pay a small fee to the trained projectionist who will handle the showing. Ask at the desk or call the library. Mrs. Gilcrest will explain the use of films and will reserve those requested.

Time to Change

Less than one half the job holders in America are satisfied with their present occupations, according to a recent poll of business and industry. If you are one of the millions dissatisfied with your present line of work or still undecided as to your future, check the material available at the library on careers and business opportunities. There are books which show how to use your present work as a stepping stone to broader fields and others on how to prepare yourself for promotion where you are. Perhaps you are ready to strike out in a new area.

Miss Marruzzi Passed Exam

MISS LORNA MARRUZZI, R.N.

Miss Lorna Marruzzi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Marruzzi, 3 Hall ave., Ballardvale, has been notified that she has successfully passed the examination of the state board of registration in nursing.

Miss Marruzzi is a graduate of Andover High School and the Salem Hospital School of Nursing, Class of 1963.

While at Salem Hospital, she was president of the Lamplighters Club for two years, and served on the art and designing staff of the yearbook. She is presently employed at Tewksbury State Hospital.

New Address Is Helpful To Taxpayers

If your 1963 federal income tax return indicates that a refund is in order, District Director Alvin M. Kelley is taking steps to insure a speed-up of the refund check. Such is the good news for taxpayers in an announcement from the Director's office.

To expedite the processing of refunds during 1964, arrangements have been made with postal authorities to have a special Post Office Box, to which taxpayers can mail individual income tax refund returns. Refund returns addressed directly to the special Post Office Box number will be processed as received and the issuance of refund checks expedited.

Mail all refund returns to: Internal Revenue Service, Post Office Box 70, Back Bay Annex, Boston, Massachusetts, 02117.

Director Kelley directs the attention of all taxpayers, regardless of their place of residence in the district, to avail themselves of this new Post Office Box No. 70 when filing their individual income tax refund returns.

RETURNED TO MILITARY ACADEMY

New Address Is Helpful To Taxpayers

If your 1963 federal income tax return indicates that a refund is in order, District Director Alvin M. Kelley is taking steps to insure a speed-up of the refund check. Such is the good news for taxpayers in an announcement from the Director's office.

To expedite the processing of returns during 1964, arrangements have been made with postal authorities to have a special Post Office Box, to which taxpayers can mail individual income tax refund returns. Refund returns addressed directly to the special Post Office Box number will be processed as received and the issuance of refund checks expedited.

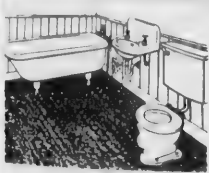

Mail all refund returns to: Internal Revenue Service, Post Office Box 70, Back Bay Annex, Boston, Massachusetts, 02117.

Director Kelley directs the attention of all taxpayers, regardless of their place of residence in the district, to avail themselves of this new Post Office Box No. 70 when filing their individual income tax refund returns.

Youth Center

The Leo Demers family of 1 Temple Place, who take part in many of the Andover Youth Center's activities, could be called the "bowling-est" family at the Center. The names of several of the Demers children appear on the challenge board, and three of them have high-string records in their divisions.

Ronnie, eight, tops the primary division with a 69 game (and, incidentally, is high man on the rummy challenge board, too). In the junior division, Leo Demers, 11, is top man with an 87 score. Donna, 15, has rolled a high single game of 102 to top the intermediate girls' division. Roger, 13, at one time this fall was high man in the intermediate boys' division by scoring a 70. In the senior division, Jimmy, 18, was top score man by rolling a 104 game, and both he and Roger have high hopes of regaining their top spots. Jimmy also instructs at the Center's alleys in his spare time.

The arrival of 20 new chairs for the lounge at the Center is just in time for the heavy influx of youngsters on these snowy days, and they have already given them a real workout.

The Center will hold an open house on Feb. 5 at 7:30 p.m. for all square dance enthusiasts in the community. With enough interest, the Center will sponsor square dance classes under the direction of Bob Bailey.

Appeal Board Rendered Decision On Florence Street

The Board of Appeals has approved use of the unfinished office building on Florence st. as a four-apartment dwelling.

Restrictions placed on the approval, however, require moving the building back from the street to conform with houses on adjoining lots. The petitioners would also be required to furnish parking for eight automobiles to the rear of the house. They must also furnish plans, both interior and exterior, for approval.

The Board found that it does not have authority to allow use of the building for business purposes "simply for the reason that it abuts business property and has greater value as business property than it does as residential property."

The Board, in its decision, described the reasons for the appeal, giving, in brief, the background of the case.

The decision then goes on:

"The issue before the Board of Appeals is now whether or not, under the presently existing circumstances, the Board of Appeals may grant a variance for the completion of this building for use either as an office building or as an apartment house with four separate apartments. The office building is 60 feet by 32 feet and is but between two feet and three feet from the lot to the north on Florence st. and but 17 feet from the lot to the south on Florence st."

"At the hearing, counsel for the residents on the street, Edward A. Gordon, Esquire, 16 Florence st., stated that since the building should not have been erected, it should be torn down. The Board feels that although the petitioners were lacking in good judgment to proceed with the building, knowing full well the strong objections of certain of the residents of Florence st., the Board must now look upon the problem with the facts as they presently exist. Although those who object to the use of the building for any purpose, because of its location so close to the street and other reasons, may have rights under a most technical interpretation of the applicable Zoning By-law and laws of the Commonwealth, the Board is of the opinion that, with respect to the hardship that it must find necessary in order to grant a variance, the fact that the house was torn down and the erection of the office building was commenced, pursuant to a permit issued by the Building Inspector, the possible use of it as a finished building must be considered and not simply the use of a vacant lot. Furthermore, since the opposing residents have been unable to informally reach any solution with the petitioners for the use of the partially erected building, the Board may make its decision and exercise its discretion only within the narrow limits of the Andover Zoning By-law and the applicable statutes of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts with respect to zoning.

"The Board finds that the lot to the south is in a business district, that the lot to the rear of the property is in a business district and that the lot across Florence st. to the south of the lot is also in a business district. There are several double or multi-family dwellings on Florence st. The property in question is in an older district of the town which, in the opinion of the Board, should not will eventually become business property. The petitioners paid $19,500 for the lot in question and spent $2,500 to tear down the house under the belief that the lot could be used for a business purpose which in the Board's opinion is evidence that the property actually has more value as commercial or business property than it does as residential property. This Board does not have, however, the right to rezone property simply for the reason that it abuts business property and has greater value as business property than it does as residential property."

"The Board is of the opinion that if the building were moved so that it was set back from the street in line with the houses located on the lot to the north and the lot to the south, the use of the building for apartment purposes would in no way be detrimental to the surrounding neighborhood nor in derogation of the intent and purpose of the Andover Zoning By-law.

The Board is of the opinion that since the petitioners razed the building after having been issued a building permit and began construction of the new building before appeal from the Building Inspector's granting of the permit, that the Board may consider the question of hardship with respect not to a vacant lot but with respect to a lot on which a partially erected building had been erected."

Display At Addison Gallery

As the population continues to swell, the demand for shelter continues to grow.

Aerial photographs taken today over the same New England suburban regions that were photographed a decade ago reveal the unbelieveable collections of small houses, crowded together in an equally unbelievable monotony which have sprung up within the brief period.
As the planting of these developments proceeds, the broad fields disappear, the woods dwindle in size and nature retreats before the ruthless march. Man moves in, in some cases for better, but who can deny that, for want of privacy, good taste and individual architectural interest, that it isn't also for worse.

"Designed For New England" is the title of the exhibition now current at the Addison Gallery of American Art, Phillips Academy, until Feb. 10, illustrating the work of the architects, E. H. and M.
K. Hunter of Hanover, N.H., the exhibit consists of some 70 enlarged photographs illustrating one firm's answer to the problem of producing imaginative designs for institutional as well as domestic shelter, while yet taking account of the rigor of New England winters, as well as of the oppressive heat of its summers.

The Sawyer Art Center of Colby
Junior College in New London, N.H., the Mathematics and Psychology Building of Dartmouth College, the Stratton Mountain Ski Area in South Londonderry, Va., the Lutheran Chapel of Our Saviour in Hanover, N.H., as well as a variety of dwellings, including the architects' own, are among the variety of problems for which this imaginative husband and wife team have found satisfactory solutions. Their firm was organized in 1945. Since then, it has received notice in foreign as well as national magazines on numerous occasions and has won awards under widely differing circumstances.

The Addison Gallery is open without charge to the public Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m.
to 5 p.m., Sundays, 2:30 to 5 p.m.
